LINCOLN GLAZING PACKAGES TARGET CANADA AND NORTHERN ZONE US

Merrill, WI. (February 26, 2014) – Specific markets require specialized glass packages, prompting Lincoln to offer additional Low E glazing options. These options, combined with a newly upgraded insulated glass line now utilizing Intercept's Stainless Steel Spacer, provide glazing selections to meet the Northern US and Canada ENERGY STAR® requirements.

Computer engineered intercept spacers have a proven track record for consistent quality, fair prices and good insulating performance. Lincoln improves upon that system by moving to more energy efficient Stainless Steel material, a decision based on their premise to consistently invest in and improve upon their products.

Utilizing LoE-180 is a natural choice for meeting the Canadian ENERGY STAR® program requirements without the added expense of triple pane glass. The beneficial properties of LoE-180, such as good U-Value numbers with solar heat gain, provide exceptional consumer value.

Visit www.lincolnwindows.com to view their large product offering meeting the Canadian and US ENERGY STAR® standards.

Furthermore, for climates striving for the lowest possible U-value, Lincoln recently enhanced their Dual Low-E option. Dual Low-E now combines Cardinal LoE-i89 and LoE²-272. The updated glazing package hits any market focused on retaining indoor heat all without added cleaning restrictions.

Clients enjoy saving precious money on heat bills with the updated Dual Low-E glass offering as it has solid light transmittance numbers with minimal haze and reflectance properties.
